FX Hedging

Hedging protects the fund and its investors from adverse currency fluctuations. It allows the fund to eliminate currency risk and concentrate on its own core functions.

Through a dedicated FX hedging team we can provide both portfolio hedging and share class hedging.

Global Custodial Services

The ability to open up cash custody bank accounts for the fund in a variety of different currencies.

Access to the bank account can be given to both the fund manager and the administrator.

International Collections

The facilitation of collections using local bank accounts based around the world.

We offer localised bank accounts in key locations to ensure that investors can easily transfer currency to the fund without making a cross-border payment, saving investors time and money.

Collections can be made via:

- Telegraphic transfer
- Debit card and credit card
